

Message from the Head Teacher:

The children seem to be settling back into school, even with all the different changes, they are all coming in and going home happy each day, so that is good news. It is so nice to have the children back in school, it's just not the same without them!

Thank you to all the parents who have logged onto Evidence for Learning this week and supporting our move to daily communication this way. It is always lovely to see what our young people are doing at home so please do remember to continue to upload these observations.

Mary Bickmore, Headteacher
