Message from SLT

It has been great to see so many parent /carers onsite this week. As a team we are still tweaking the system so thank you for bearing with us and working alongside us through this transition. It is also lovely to have been able to have face to face meetings with some of our school community and as a team we look forward to many more of them. Now time for a quick spoiler alert, we are excited to announce that as part of our end of term celebrations we will be having a day for all learners to explore bubbles. We have a workshop happening onsite which will be accessible to all learners, a letter will follow shortly.

Have a lovely weekend

@ravensbournelime

The school has recently started an Instagram Account, which shows all the wonderful things happening in the school. Look out for updates on the learning activities going on throughout the week. The set-ups for some of our sensory stories and our classrooms. Please follow nus if you have an account.

Reminder: Allergies

As a school community can I please remind everyone that we are an egg free zone so, when organizing snacks and lunches for our learners can you ensure that this is considered. Cakes are still fine, products that are not allowed are things such as Egg-fried rice, fried eggs etc.

We are also asking parents not to bring/send food onsite to be shared by others. We want to be an allergy friendly school therefore we are only consuming food onsite that has been purchased through our suppliers so that we can be sure that all allergens are marked correctly. This move is due to Natasha's Law. As a school we appreciate all your support on this matter.

Pupils of the week

Patrik

for exploring a wide range of wet and dry sensory resources and for sustaining his attention for longer periods.

Ayo

for completing the tasks in his work independently.

Reeve Class: Exploring Yayoi Kusama

We have been taking inspiration from the focus artist and covering ourselves and other things in dots!
